

SUMGAYIT STATE
UNIVERSITY

ANTI-DISCRIMINATION POLICY

CONTENT

Section 1. Introduction

1.1. Introduction

1.2. Legal basis

Section 2. Mission and Scope

2.1. Mission

2. 2. Scope of the policy

Section 3. Monitoring and reporting

Section 1. Introduction

1.1. Introduction

In modern times one of the essential principles of international law is the principle of not permitting discrimination. The principle of non-discrimination is one of the most widely used principles in international law.

Discrimination or the disclosure of the protection of the rights of individual states, legal and natural persons with other states, legal and natural persons is a common legal term. All forms of discrimination are allowed by domestic legislation in democratic states. The term is used in the Constitution of the Republic of Azerbaijan and other legislative acts.

1.2. Legal basis

- Constitution of the Republic of Azerbaijan
- Other legislative acts of the Republic of Azerbaijan in this area;
- UN General Declaration on Human Rights dated 10.XII, 1948
- 1989 Convention on the Rights of the Child;
- 1965 International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination.

Section 2. Mission and Scope

2.1. Mission

- Ensuring human rights and freedoms, the formation of civil society, and the consistent, permanent and successful continuation of the policy carried out in the field of democratic, legal and secular state-building.
- The achievements in this field will further enhance the reputation of our state in the international field.

2.2. Scope of the policy

- Realizing events for the study of topics connected with human rights and freedom at Sumgait State University;
- Organization of Olympiads, competitions among students in the university on human rights, art exhibitions and other events with regard to human rights;

- Informing university employees and students with documents received by international organizations related to the protection of human rights and publications in this field in the university library;
- Acquainting employees and students with the materials of international conventions on human rights and freedom, that the Republic of Azerbaijan has joined.

Section 3. Monitoring and evaluation

The compliance of the activities carried out at the University with the legislation of the Republic of Azerbaijan and the normative documents that form the legal basis of the Policy, the correct and detailed reflection of all measures linked with the Policy carried out at the University in relevant documents, monitoring and evaluation of the results will be carried out.